

Daughters

A Documentary

Book an Impact Screening

We are thrilled to announce that Daughters is now accessible via Netflix's educational platform, making it available to schools, correctional facilities, community-based centers, and organizations committed to fostering understanding, empathy, and social transformation. By engaging with this film and our team, we hope educators and advocates will spark essential conversations, deepen compassion, and drive collective action toward a future rooted in justice, hope, and reconciliation.

Ready to get started?

The first step is to complete our inquiry form. Upon completion, our team will contact you to discuss your objectives and explore the most effective ways we can support your screening event. Once you have received approval, we will provide comprehensive resources, promotional assistance, access to speakers, and guidance designed to help facilitate meaningful and engaging conversations for lasting impact.

Screening and Film Rights

Subscription-based streaming services (e.g., Netflix, Disney+, Hulu, YouTube, HBO, Amazon Prime) only allow personal or home viewing under their user agreements. Films exclusive to these platforms cannot be screened publicly without explicit permission. In order to screen Daughters in a public setting, you must receive approval of the screening from the copyright owner (Netflix) or Girls For A Change. Please review the following policy to understand the steps for securing film rights for your event:

1. Complete the Inquiry Form to request a screening of Daughters.
2. Work with Girls For A Change to set up your event registration on our approved platform.

* Please note: DVDs and VHS copies—whether purchased or rented—are for personal use only and do not include public performance rights.

Grant of Permission for Educational Screenings

Educational screenings are permitted in non-commercial educational settings, such as:

- Classrooms
- Community group meetings

- Book clubs
- Faith-based gatherings
- Correctional facilities

Important Notes:

- These screenings must not be publicly advertised.
- A one-time screening means it cannot be shown multiple times within a short period (e.g., several times in one day or week). However, educators may screen the title once per semester over multiple semesters.
- The screening must be non-profit and non-commercial. That means you can't charge admission, fundraise, solicit donations, or accept advertising or commercial sponsorships in connection with the screening. The documentary shall not be screened at any political campaign events and/or electoral campaigning events.
- Girls For A Change will not be liable or responsible for providing a shorter version of the trailer or project in connection with the Impact, Educational screenings, or Watch Parties. Daughters deserves to be experienced in its entirety. It's not just a documentary; it's a coming-of-age journey, a layered emotional and deeply intentional piece of storytelling. Standing firm in that vision is how we protect the integrity of our work and how we honor the girls and families whose stories we're telling.

Approvals & Deadlines

- Event requests must be made a minimum of 2 months in advance in case any coordination of travel is required.
- Failure to obtain approval by this deadline will result in the automatic cancellation of your event booking.
- All changes or cancellations must be submitted to Girls For A Change at least 2 weeks in advance via email.

Branding & Promotion

1. Event registration must go through our official platform, using our branded templates.
2. All event and promotional assets will be created by the Girls For A Change team and distributed to you.
3. You must use the official branded template provided to promote your event with access to manage your guest list.
4. Upon approval, you will receive documentation authorizing you to screen the film publicly.
5. Organizations hosting the screening may have their logos placed on the promotional assets. Logos must not exceed more than two organizations and can only be placed as hosts. No partners or other logos will be added.

Impact Screening Do's and Don'ts

We are thrilled by the number of community partners interested in screening Daughters and fostering meaningful dialogue to create solutions within their communities. Our goal is to support each screening and ensure its success.

✓ Do's:

1. Obtain official approval before hosting your screening.
2. Follow proper branding and promotional protocols as outlined by Girls For A Change.
3. Ensure the screening is free of charge for attendees.
4. Use only official promotional materials provided upon approval, including images and invitations.
5. Submit your screening request at least 30 days in advance to allow time for review and approval.
6. Tag Girls For A Change and Daughters on social media in promotion of your event.

✗ Don'ts:

1. Do not use stills, photos, or images from the film—or trailers for promotion—without explicit permission.
2. Do not create your own promotional materials; instead, use the official branded template from Girls For A Change.
3. Do not add to or alter promotional materials.
4. Do not publicly promote the screening before receiving approval.
5. Do not charge a fee for guests to attend the screening.
6. Do not use the screening as a fundraiser or donation-based event.
7. Do not alter the film or present it in a way that misrepresents its message.
8. Do not use the film or event for political or commercial purposes without consent.
9. Do not stream the film live during in-person events or stream Q&As without prior permission.

The sooner you book your event, the sooner we can move forward with marketing and communications. We are confident that, by following these guidelines, we can get your screening approved.
